

Standards Promoting Food Safety and Quality

Guest Editors:

Dr. Brunella Arru

brarru@uniss.it

Lucia Briamonte

lucia.briamonte@crea.gov.it

Dr. Massimo Lucarini

massimo.lucarini@crea.gov.it

Dr. Filippo Giarratana

filippo.giarratana@unime.it

Dr. Alessandra Durazzo

alessandra.durazzo@crea.gov.it

Prof. Dr. Ilija Djekic

idjekic@agrif.bg.ac.rs

Deadline for manuscript
submissions:

30 June 2023

Message from the Guest Editors

Dear colleagues,

Food quality and safety are critically important to the economy and public health of all countries.

The issue of how standards can promote food safety and quality undoubtedly plays a central role not only in the political and entrepreneurial debate but also in the daily life of consumers.

This Special Issue on “Standards Promote Food Safety and Quality” welcomes high-quality original research articles, in-depth conceptual papers, or reviews presenting novel findings and filling contemporary knowledge gaps.

Some of the questions that could tackle the Special Issue theme include, but are not limited to, the following:

How do the public and private standards providing food safety and quality promote the achievement of sustainable development and affect the firm's performance?

What efforts are to be undertaken by the individual food operators of the food chain and policymakers to encourage the adoption of food safety and quality standards?

And etc.

